

Sanitor

Oh Snap! Pickling Co. Little Chute, WI

Starting Pay: $19.95 per hour with a $2.00 shift differential for 2nd shift. 90, 180, and 270 day probationary periods with a possible .50 pay increase at the end of each probationary period. $2,000 sign on bonus after successful reviews.

You're someone who cares about order. High standards. Cleanliness. You're well-versed in cleaning essentials: operations, materials, supplies, and pest control. We're in need of someone like you—someone who understands the importance of sanitation in food production and has demonstrated the ability to go above and beyond standards to guarantee clean, safe handling practices and equipment.

This position isn't just about "cleaning," though—it's also about keeping up production equipment, documentation, making sure chemicals are properly labeled, stored and used, and adhering to GMP guidelines (just to name a few).

Officially, you're our "Sanitor," which means you'll be a part of the line responsible for ensuring food safety, quality, and production efficiency. We'll need you to see to it that all sanitation rules and regulations are being followed to the letter so our products remain high-quality and safe. Also in your hands: troubleshooting issues related to sanitation and coming up with innovative solutions to problems.

At Oh Snap! Pickling Co., safety is a top priority, and we'll rely on your expertise to help us maintain a safe environment. Along the way, we'll provide regular reviews and relevant training to help keep you up to speed.

What we like about YOU

- You aim high when it comes to quality, efficiency, and meeting standards
- You constantly work to better yourself and sharpen your skills
- You can document information clearly and accurately
- You're an independent worker and quick on your feet
- You're happy to work overtime when you need to
- You have proven success working under pressure and multitasking (even in the face of disruptions)
- You find it easy to communicate with people from all walks of life
- You're a perfectionist in all things sanitation—you're able to produce work within exacting standards and tolerances
- You know what the acronym "HACCP" means (and have a working knowledge of how to implement and follow it)
- You can comply with company policies and procedures, GMPs, safety and quality standards, food safety measures, OSHA, and other safety regulations
- You're okay with working in a hot and humid environment
- You can lift and move heavy and weirdly-shaped objects (up to 50 pounds)

- You have a high school diploma or GED
- You have training and 1-3 years in a field related to sanitation

Why you'll like Oh Snap! Pickling Co.

Positive performers are recognized and appreciated here. In short, we reward and support people who make good things happen. You can make an impact (and get credit for a job well done) because there's less "corporate red tape."

Not being held back by bureaucracy also means you have a direct line of communication to leadership. We believe less supervision can inspire great ideas and provides unique opportunities to bring those to life quickly. Bonus financial opportunities are available, depending on the company's production, so you can make your mark.

It is our innovation that has made us an industry leader, advancing ever-evolving food concepts. New techniques in the manufacturing process raise Oh Snap! Pickling to higher levels of dynamic tastes.

We're proud of our history and understand future excellence is rooted in the creation of a meaningful work environment, which fosters the growth of individual employees and improves our community.
